

I heard on the news that the No Call List Rules would be relaxed.
That telemarketers could start calling you again after 18 months.
If anything the rules should be strengthened. When you sign up its because you don't want these calls ever. You should not get called unless you remove yourself from the list yourself.